The Duke of Ormond's LETTER to the Subjects of ENGLAND.

CUP. 21
9.40/2

The KEY of the EXPLAINATION.

WE shall soon see better Times, when truth and Justice, walks together, and the Innocent Dove brings the Oliv Leaf Home in her Mouth, then it will be out of the Power of the Devil or his Agents to hurt us, the Lamb, and the Lyon shall lie down together, and the Royal Crown shall be kept within Compass, the whole Glob, at last shall Ring of our Joyful Bright and Sun-shine Days, and happily Taste of Aul true hope, on the Anchor of Love, but while Asses and Owls Guides the Ship, and it Govern'd by Pride, then fare well Holy Church, for it will be Transformd into a Ape, and fill the Sawe of Envy, will Plague us and gives us a Cup of Affliction to our Mouths, to the Advancement of the Fun, to vex our Hearts, But we must bear with Patience, till those Troubles are Exstinguished, and no more be turn'd about with the Wind Mill of Hypocrisy.

LONDON: Printed by A. Hinde, in Fleet-lane, near Fleet-street. 1719.